THE CHINA MAIL.
HONGKONG, FRIDAY, NOV. 21, 1879.

In resuming our remarks upon the last meeting of the Council, it may be noted that the fuss made here and in England about the C. D. O. revenue has resulted in the seeming discovery, at this late date, that the unsavoury agitation, regarding the alleged use of such receipts for the general expenditure, was based in a great measure upon a fiction. It ought not to be forgotten that this discovery originally belongs to Mr. Keswick, who, in his note appended to the C. D. O. Commission (p. 54), thus explained it:—"The returns which have been furnished of Receipts and of Expenditure from 1857 to 1877, both years inclusive, show an average annual excess of revenue of about $3600, which sum, however, would probably entirely disappear, were the Registrar General's Department credited with its full share of incidental expenses in working the Ordinance. It would appear, therefore, that revenue has not been derived in excess of expenditure under the provisions of the Ordinance." The present Colonial Treasurer must have been absent from the Colony when the Governor unearthed this grave irregularity in the administration of the Sir Richard MacDonnell (or somebody else); but it was quite refreshing to note the unconscious way in which Mr. Tonnochy, with the self-assurance of an accurate knowledge of the subject, disposed of the official dust that has been raised here, in Parliament, and in the Colonial Office. Mr. Tonnochy deserves much credit for his independent statement—such speeches have become rare now-a-days—and it must be said, to the credit of His Excellency, that the Governor accepted the unintentional blow with becoming composure of manner. Mr. Keswick must have inwardly enjoyed this spontaneous official corroboration of his views; but then this active unofficial member has a facial power seldom given to ordinary men. There can be no doubt, however, that the reduction of this fines will be a good, in so far as it tends to check the bondage of such unfortunate women. It remains a question, at the same time, whether the health of the Colony—the chief thing aimed at by the C. D. law—has been materially improved by the change referred to.

The new Opium Ordinance deals with a subject which is so very suggestive, that we shall reserve any remarks thereon till another time.

The Acting Attorney General (Mr Russell) nearly monopolized the floor on this occasion, and it must be admitted that he has thoroughly demonstrated his ability to deal with the various legislative measures which have come within his reach during his acting appointment. Mr Russell's experience as private secretary to Sir Richard MacDonnell and as Police Magistrate admirably fits him for his present duties; and it is to be regretted that his place will be filled by an officer who knows nothing about the conditions and circumstances of the Colony. It is some consolation, however, to know that the more important legislative measures now in course of completion will become law before Mr O'Malley arrives. One achievement, mainly due to Mr Russell's energy, will be henceforth associated with his name, viz., the Merchant Shipping Consolidation Bill. He has evidently mastered the subject, and the result bids fair to be a most useful and comprehensive measure—a conclusion to the years of pigeon-holing and references home which must be satisfactory to the mercantile community. It is also indicative of a proper spirit, which is pleasant to see, that Mr Russell does not seek to monopolize the credit likely to accrue from this wholesome piece of consolidated law. It takes nothing from an official in the position of Attorney General to acknowledge the assistance quietly rendered him by an officer of another department, and it was with sincere pleasure that we recorded the justice done on this occasion to Mr Thomsett in the public reference made to that officer's assistance by the Acting Attorney General. In addition to the valuable improvements as to surveys—which include those so much needed on river passenger steamers—several new sections are embodied which deal most satisfactorily with the numerous difficulties involved in the treatment of discharged seamen, and of foreign sailors who have deserted or been guilty of misdemeanours in port. The vexed question, which has been so frequently alluded to, as to how far Consuls or local Magistrates can take cognisance of misconduct on the part of foreign seamen, or regulate their discharge from a ship, is set at rest by a provision in the new Bill. The effect of the clause concerning the discharge of seamen, while it will fully meet the wants of the foreign Consuls themselves, will also allow of greater power being exercised in preventing seamen from being thrown in a destitute condition upon the Colony. What was intended by the clause which gives to a Magistrate power to take cognisance of offences committed on board foreign ships in these waters, was not, as the Chief Justice appeared to think, to give any power to foreign Consuls; it was to empower the local Magistrates to dispose of any case which, upon the written application of any foreign Consul, was brought before them. Power to ask and to receive assistance in cases where they were otherwise helpless, was all that the foreign Consuls desired; and this aid will now be given to them through the Magistrates by means of the clause which the Attorney General proposes to introduce. This seems perfectly fair; and although we cannot but endorse nearly every word advanced by Sir John Smale as to the inadvisability of enlarging the powers of foreign Consuls in Hongkong, it must be apparent that no text whatever for His Lordship's homily is to be found in Mr Russell's proposition. Mr Russell has done good service to the shipping interest, especially to shipmasters of steamers plying to and from this port, in his endeavour to prevent the dangerous practice of slooping swarming round vessels when under way. The remaining provisions of the Consolidated Bill have yet to be laid before the Council.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The next AMERICAN MAIL may be expected here on or about the 24th inst., by the O. & O. steamer Belgie, which left Yokohama on the 18th inst.

The matinee performance by Messrs Vase and Ira Brown in St. Andrew's Hall takes place, we would remind our readers to-morrow, Saturday.

The Hospital ship Mecanes is about to undergo some extensive repairs, including painting and caulking the decks, and the whole of the patients have to-day been removed to Wellington Barracks as a temporary measure.

We have been requested to state that the common Jurors summoned for this Session need not attend again. A Special Jury has been ordered for Bowler's case, and to hear the charge of Conspiracy (the $17,000 case).

Superior Major Grant, A.M.D., proceeds Singapore by the P. and O. mail steamer Kashgar to-morrow. On the arrival of H. M. S. Orontes at that station with the 1st Battalion 8th Buffs from the Cape, 74th Highlanders will go home, after a tour of foreign service extending over a period of twelve years, in Gibraltar, Malta, Hongkong and Singapore. Dr. Grant will take medical charge of the regiment on passage to England.
